Notes:

- 1.) Indicate the contribution of each member of the group towards the final output allocating percentages from 1% to 100%.
- 2.) Practical contribution of individual members - 1% = unreliable, unwilling to undertake boring tasks, missed deadlines, no practical contribution to the final output, etc, and 100% = reliable and willing in all designated tasks, completed all designated tasks towards final output
- 3.) Example 1: you may decide that each member of the group has contributed equally 100%, in which case you write 100% against each name.
Example 2: you may decide that "student A" has contributed only 50% and all other students equally 100%, in which case you write 50% against student A and 100% against each other name.
